McCarthy Accuses Truman Rule of Treason

Business Changes, Improvements On Upper Vine Street

THE WEATHER has been so hot and humid that Timmo has not been too much inclined to reach out into the hinterland for material which can be expanded into this near-daily effort.

In fact, for this dissertation I've stayed real close to the office. I'm telling about the doings of Upper Vine street.

To begin with, Doc Travelstead is coming down to earth. As you might remember, Dr. E. M. Travelstead, local dentist who has offices on South Main street up town and upstairs, bought the Sludebaker sales and apartment buildings from Connie VanderPluym. VanderPluym moved his auto sales department up a couple of doors into the original Exide garage building which he had used all along.

That left the downstairs part of the building Travelstead bought empty and right now the dentist and bull raiser is building his office in a part of this vacant building. He is using the part which has been the driveway into the building on its north side. It's big enough to be made into three rooms—the reception room, work room and laboratory—in that order. So Doc will have his feet on the ground one of these days.

Up in the present Studebaker Sales they had the cheapest kind of air conditioning installed yesterday. It was because the entire front window had been taken out and was like one of these drive-in markets. However, before long a new window was put in to replace the old one that was getting in bad condition.

Farther up on Upper Vine street the Egyptian tin plumbing and heating shop has expanded. When the owners first moved in a few months ago, they had the building next to the Azar paint store on the corner. Now since Jimmy Azar is out of business, they have taken this building, too, making their original room into a shop and the corner building into the sales department and offices.

And while we're still on Upper Vine street we might say that we're getting along fine here at The Daily Register, putting out a paper every day except Sundays and holidays, and that down the street a piece Paul Hood's conversation is still stimulating.

MAKING CHANGE has always been a rough part of driving a bus during rush hours but I note that in Ontario, Canada, an unusual fare system has been requested by the bus line.

Under the plan, an adult fare will be 12 cents, but if the bus driver has to make change, the fare is increased to 15 cents. Two adults may ride for a quarter. Student fares are seven cents with the right change, and ten cents without.

Discusses School Problems at Rotary

Russell Malan, superintendent of city schools, spoke to his fellow Rotarians last night at their weekly dinner session, reporting on some of the problems discussed by school administrators in meeting yesterday at Springfield.

Malan gave his listeners some statistics to show how Illinois compared with other states, relative to financial assistance, teachers' salaries and enrollments. He also touched briefly on the special education processes, the needs in Illinois, and Harrisburg's own situation.

President D. H. Hiller presided at the meeting and announced that the group would have a picnic later in the month at the Russler cabin.

Double Funeral at Brownfield for Two Drowning Victims

A double funeral service was held today at the Brownfield Baptist church for Donald Densch, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Densch of Golconda, and Isabelle Williamson, 11-year-old daughter of Pete Williamson, Golconda, who were drowned in a pond Sunday at 6 p. m. on the Densch farm home west of Golconda.

Rev. John Flannery, pastor of the Brownfield church, conducted the funeral at 2 p. m., assisted by Rev. Frank Marshall, Golconda Baptist minister. Burial was in the Odd Fellows cemetery at Golconda.

Senator Lists Five Incidents to Support Charges

First Case Was Truman Ouster of Gen. MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy accused the Truman administration today of "five incidents of treason."

He said they prolonged the Korean War and cost the nation thousands of needless casualties.

He said there is "no way on earth of knowing" whether the officials responsible are still holding government jobs.

He phrased his statements as a series of questions to Francis P. Carr, executive director of his Communist-hunting Senate subcommittee. Carr agreed with the senator 100 per cent.

The first case of "treason" McCarthy cited was former President Truman's ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Allied supreme commander. McCarthy said MacArthur was "hamstrung and brought down" by "interference of the State Department."

McCarthy said Mr. Truman sent a special observer — Maj. Gen. Frank E. Low—to Korea to serve as his "eyes and ears," but that his reports "never got through to Mr. Truman." If they had, he said, "many young men would be alive today who are dead today."

Formosa Blockade
McCarthy then took up the Truman order for a blockade of Formosa which was rescinded by President Eisenhower shortly after he took office in 1953.

McCarthy quoted Mr. Eisenhower as saying the order meant, in effect, that the U. S. 7th Fleet was a "defensive arm of Communist China" and permitted the Reds to kill American troops in Korea "with greater impunity."

Carr agreed with McCarthy that the officials responsible for the order should be haled before congress to explain "whether they were criminally incompetent, or were just stupid beyond words."

The senator took up "treason" No. 3 in his next go-round of questioning.

He quoted Gen. James A. Van Fleet, field commander in Korea, as saying the Communist army was "on the run, hurting badly" and "out of supplies."

...and crying for them to turn me loose," he quoted Van Fleet as saying. "I could have gotten all their heavy equipment and captured 200,000 to 300,000 prisoners."

Says Van Fleet was Shattered
But Van Fleet, McCarthy said, was prevented from taking the offensive.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, McCarthy's successor as Allied commander, was quoted by McCarthy

Blast Breaks Glass In PMW Office At New Shawneetown

A blast broke the glass out of the front of an office building of the Progressive Mine Workers of America in New Shawneetown around 12:45 a. m. Sunday, Gallatin county authorities revealed today.

They said that their investigation had disclosed no motive for the act but that all salvagable material was being sent in to the state department of criminal identification and investigation to try to determine the kind of explosive used.

It was stated that powder burns on the sidewalk in front of the building indicated the explosive hit there and it was the concussion that broke the glass.

State's Attorney Charles W. Phillips, although he emphasized there is still no indication as to the reason for the act, declared that the law-enforcement officers of Gallatin county had discussed the blast and agreed that the Illinois militia should be called in immediately at the first sign of any labor disorders.

Two Hurt in Auto-Truck Crash
An auto driven by Rexall Hal Long, 17, and a truck driven by Aud Scherer, 46, both of Eldorado, collided on Route 45 last night as Scherer was preparing to enter the Starlite Drive-in theatre and Scherer and his wife, Louise, were taken to the Ferrell hospital suffering crash injuries.

Deputy Sheriff Isam Threet, who reported the crash, said that Terry Long, Raymond Mosby and Carroll Bowling were with Long.

Yesterday's Brown Water Caused by Check of Fire Plugs

The water department today hoped that the dark water experience of yesterday is over.

It was announced that the reason for the brown water in many parts of the city was this: Fire insurance underwriters were in town to check the water pressure at fire plugs as a safety measure and a number of plugs were turned on. Water which lays in these plugs and becomes rusty got stirred up and as a result the mains filled with rusty water.

Mayor Ralph Horning said today he hoped that the rust had been eliminated. He added that the state department of public health has had a man in Harrisburg and his check revealed that the city is doing everything in its power to give the residents good water. The water bears the approval of the health department for drinking purposes.

Hits Cities for Failure to Repay Red Cross

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the American National Red Cross, has attacked cities which accept nationwide disaster aid but don't pay it back.

As examples he cited the tornado-stricken cities of Flint, Mich., Waco, Tex., and Worcester, Mass. Such communities "can scarcely expect in the future to be recipients of nationwide generosity," he said.

Harriman, addressing the opening plenary session of the American Red Cross national convention Monday night, recalled the tornado that hit Flint last June.

"Red Cross immediately moved in to meet the needs of the sufferers," he said. "We spent nearly $600,000 contributed by all the country. Meanwhile, a committee in Flint solicited funds and received over $900,000."

"On the contrary," he continued, "after Red Cross finished its job, all that money was distributed to people over and above what they had received from Red Cross—irrespective of whether they could have taken care of themselves from then on in whole or in part."

The Red Cross contributed $294,683 to disaster victims in last spring's tornadoes which swept Waco, he said, but received not one cent in remuneration except from individual donations.

At Worcester, where a tornado hit early last June, the Red Cross had started to conduct a campaign for funds, he said. But he said it was called off when the Central Massachusetts Relief Fund gave assurances that the Red Cross and other relief agencies would share in the money collected.

The relief fund raised approximately $2,000,000, he said. Out of that the Red Cross received $201,500 in contrast to the $1,015,971 it spent. The remainder of the money, from $200,000 to $400,000, was never accounted for, the Red Cross said.

Reveal $300,000 Theft of State Funds

By Former New Jersey Governor

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Former governor Harold G. Hoffman took $300,000 in state funds to cover an 11-year series of bank embezzlements, officials indicated today.

A confession made public after the Hoffman's death revealed the embezzlements. Subsequent investigation pointed to the final grand theft of funds from the state's temporary disability insurance fund.

State Treasurer Archibald S. Alexander said the state had $1,200,000 on deposit in three accounts at the South Amboy, N.J., bank where Hoffman had been an officer. Bank records credited the state fund with only $900,000.

John J. Toolan, counsel for the bank, said the latest juggling of funds may have occurred as late as five years ago.

"There is some information which warrants the belief that the shortage may exist in some state account over which the late Harold G. Hoffman had control," he said. "There is no shortage at the bank."

Hoffman was governor of New Jersey from 1935 to 1938. He later

Dog Problems Discussed by City Council

Rabies Quarantine Is Recommended By Health Doctor

The Harrisburg city council today received a recommendation from Dr. B. E. Montgomery, city health physician, that a rabies quarantine be placed on all dogs within the city until Oct. 1.

No action was taken by the council, which adjourned until 2 p. m. Thursday to continue with the discussion.

The recommendation, by telephone, came during a discussion of dogs running loose over the city.

Mrs. Tim Turner, president of the Harrisburg Humane society, last night had been summoned to the meeting by Mayor Ralph Horning.

700 Dogs Vaccinated
The mayor and Chief of Police Loren Travelstead told of their problems with dogs running loose and of the damage they had done, with some persons being bitten.

Mrs. Turner told of the work of the Humane Society. She said more than 1,200 dogs, mostly strays, were handled by the shelter last year and that so far this year 700 dogs have been vaccinated here through society-sponsored rabies vaccination clinics, which have been held for the past six years.

During the discussion Mayor Horning received a telephone call and returned, saying, "Boys, our problem is solved; Dr. Montgomery has recommended a quarantine."

But somebody said there would be the problem of what to do with the dogs picked up. The law provides that they be kept for a week before they are disposed of.

Suggests Legal Advice
"That's all right," said Mrs. Turner, "but we won't be able to handle all the dogs that will be coming in with our limited funds and facilities. And does this mean that all the dogs that owners have spent money on getting them vaccinated must be kept up or be taken?"

She was informed that it was the case.

At this point Commissioner Carl Tuttle said that he believed that it was dogs that had owners who let them run, especially at night, that were causing most of the complaints. And Police Commissioner

City Attorney Reports On Clearing Deeds for Lake Harrisburg Site

City Attorney D. F. Rumsey told the council of the city of Harrisburg that he was getting along well with lining up the deeds needed for the Lake Harrisburg project.

Difficulties with only about three land owners out of approximately 15 need ironing out, he declared. One parcel needs the clearing of the title by a party, one is holding out for shore rights and the other is the question of not having the mineral rights on the Dorris land.

However, the council instructed Rumsey to proceed on getting this deed and indications were that the state will not permit oil drilling on the lake site. Also, it was pointed out, the council could pass an ordinance prohibiting oil drilling on city property.

World Church Council Committee Hits Inequality in Democracy

Visits Here After Preaching in Various Parts of the World

CHICAGO (AP)—A committee of the World Council of Churches today criticized democracy for permitting "inequality, discrimination, injustice, reliance on naked power, exploitation and aggression."

The committee, in a report designed as a guide for Protestants throughout the world, criticized communism even more harshly for its denial of God and its attempt to replace the Deity with the Communist Party.

The report was prepared by a committee of eminent Protestant theologians for submission to the council's second assembly in Evanston, Ill., in August.

The report was similar, but milder in terms, than the report of the council's first assembly at Amsterdam in 1948. That report, too, criticized both democracy and communism, and evoked widespread discussion and controversy.

Report Could Be Changed
The new report could be modified at the August assembly, regarded as one of the most important Protestant meetings in history. The report will serve as the council's comment on world affairs and the state of mankind.

It consists of two pamphlets, both published by Harper & Brothers. The first, 51 pages, is based on the assembly's main theme of "Christ—the Hope of the World."

The second, a 354-page supplement, concerns sub-themes.

Democracy was accused chiefly of failing to put enough faith in God as the ruler of man's destiny. Science is Not All

The report also criticized the philosophy of "scientific humanism" on grounds that it teaches that all of man's problems can be solved through science, technology and education.

...the scientific humanist by his very centering of all hopes on man must reject the Christian faith as an enemy," the committee said.

"The illusions of democratic humanists include also a confusion of ideals and facts," the report said. "They hold the ideals of equality, freedom and justice and assume far too easily that in societies committed to the democratic way of life none of these ideals is denied in fact."

"But inequality, discrimination, injustice, reliance on naked power, exploitation and aggression are not absent from democracies, and only man-centered self-righteousness can believe that they are."

The body is at the Turner funeral home at Broughton awaiting funeral services which will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Hickory Hill Baptist church. Elder T. Leo Dodd will conduct the funeral and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Jaycees Officially Turn Over Street Markers to City
The Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce today officially turned over the street markers to the City of Harrisburg.

The Jaycees six years ago started its street marker program, a major project, and this morning President Vern Joyner was present at the council meeting to turn them over to the city.

Except for a few corrections that must be made, the program is now complete, he pointed out.

The council passed a motion to accept the markers and expressed thanks to the Jaycees for the work the group did.

Plane Makes Emergency Landing in Storm; None Of 78 Aboard Injured

GAGE, Okla. (AP) — A DC4 passenger plane, one of its four engines on fire, made an emergency landing in a thunderstorm early today. None of the 78 persons aboard was injured.

The plane, making a non-scheduled flight from New York to Seattle, landed on one of the emergency runways of the Gage municipal airport.

As it slowed for a stop, the landing gear collapsed and the craft rolled over on its right side.

The 75 passengers and three crew members climbed out. The plane was virtually destroyed by the fire.

The craft was operated by the Great Lakes Airlines of Burbank, Calif.

Recommend Six Cent Hour Pay Hike at A-Plants

Proposal by Panel Retroactive to April 15 if Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Atomic Energy Labor Relations Panel today recommended a six-cent hourly wage hike for 8,500 atomic energy production workers at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky.

The across-the-board increase would be retroactive to April 15, if accepted by the company and two unions involved.

The panel, headed by Cyrus S. Ching, labor relations expert and former head of the Federal Mediation Service, made the recommendation in an effort to avert a threatened strike at four atomic facilities where the workers are employed.

CIO-AFL Make Demands
The wage dispute is between the Carbide & Carbon Chemicals Co., which operates the three plants at Oak Ridge and one at Paducah, and the CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers and the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council.

Neither the company nor the two unions have said what the unions originally asked. A panel spokesman said the unions, in a hearing before the panel, asked only for a "substantial" increase.

Under panel procedure, the spokesman said, both sides in the dispute are expected to observe a 30-day cooling off period to consider the recommendation, but this is not mandatory.

Unions Stop Strike
The panel stepped into the dispute April 17 after federal mediators failed to bring the company and unions together on a settlement. The unions' postponed threatened strike at the request of the mediation service and the panel pending recommendations by the panel.

The wage increase was the only issue in dispute.

The unions' contracts with the company provided for a wage reopener on April 15.

Will Discuss Asia Crisis at White House Meeting

Dulles to Participate In Conference To Begin June 25

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will confer with President Eisenhower here next week, presumably on the crisis in Southeast Asia and the failure at Geneva to check Red advances in Indochina.

The White House in a totally unexpected announcement said today the conference with the British officials will take place at the White House over the weekend starting June 25. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will participate.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said it will be "an informal meeting" with no fixed agenda. But it appeared obvious the Big Two statesmen will give serious attention to the increasingly grave Communist menace in Southeast Asia, the evident failure of the Geneva Far East talks, and collapse of Joseph Laniel's French government.

Will Plan Resistance
It appeared obvious that the extent and nature of the free world's resistance to further Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia will be determined to a large extent by the Churchill-Eisenhower, Eden-Dulles conferences.

Dulles told a news conference he hopes the talks will improve chances for a collective defense system for Southeast Asia. He said there seems to be evidence that the British feel possibilities for getting Indochinese peace through the Geneva conference have been exhausted and that alternatives ought to be considered. Dulles said he hopes that if that is so, the forthcoming talks will lead to a closer meeting of minds on his "united action" proposal.

Dulles said no emergency prompted the talks. He said Mr. Eisenhower extended a sort of standing invitation and that it is now convenient for the invitation to be accepted because Eden will be able to come along.

Effect of the French government collapse on the defense of Western Europe would be high on the list of such topics.

Announcement of the conference and those to participate in it underscored the apparent fact that the United States and Great Britain, for the time being at least, must shoulder by themselves the main burden of organizing free world opposition to Communist aggression.

As the White House was announcing the forthcoming conference, Churchill was stating in London that the Geneva conference on Far Eastern problems was deadlocked. He said Eden will return to London next Tuesday and make a personal report to the House of Commons.

Job Tip for June Grads:

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Any
leading citizen faced with delivering a commencement address to a graduating class sure has a tough assignment on his hands this year.
What can he tell 'em?

This is the age of science, he may think as he begins to prepare his speech. There is a shortage of engineers. So tell the young folk to carry on their educations and become engineers. Let the graduate build one of those new atomic power plants—or a bigger and better bomb—and the world will beat a path to his door.

Or tell him to become a great scientist like that fellow who built the first A-bomb and later became head of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton. What was his name? Oh, yes—J. Robert Oppenheimer.

No, that wouldn't do. Better leave science out of the speech.
Too many people thought scientists were odd — like Albert Einstein.
Better get an example with no question of security involved.

WELL, THERE IS always public service. No question about that.
With so many charges of disloyalty, flying around, there should be a great field in government service.
So tell 'em to become honest administrators.

Start as a clerk and climb the ladder of success, round by round, making your agency a model of efficiency, free from politics.

Work hard. And in 20 years you'll become as good as and as respected as that red-headed fellow who became head of TVA—the Tennessee Valley Authority—what was his name? Oh, yes—Gordon Clapp.
No, that wouldn't do, either. Something in the papers the other day about his not being reappointed.
Never explained, either, and they hadn't found anyone as good as he was to replace him. Well, no use

Ralph Pallister, President

Eighth Book of Evangelist Bernie Smith to Be Released Early in '55

Bernie Smith, evangelist who has traveled through many parts of the world preaching the Gospel,
is home for a semi-annual visit with his parents and while in Harrisburg it became known that the eighth book he has written will be released in the early spring.

Smith, an ordained elder and a commissioned evangelist in the Church of the Nazarene, with international headquarters at Kansas City, Mo., has written numerous articles for religious publications in addition to these books.

The one yet unpublished is titled "The Thirteenth Apostle," and publishers today announced it will be released in the early spring of 1955. It contains 25 devotional sermons.

Praised in Book Introduction

His other books are "Jesus Speaks from the Cross," "Contemporary Conversions," "Flames of Living Fire," "Treasurers of Truth," "Let There Be Light,"
"Triumph and Tragedy" in New Testament Personalities," and one volume published under another name.

In an introduction to the book,
"Triumph and Tragedy," H. Orton Wiley, president emeritus of Pasadena college, has this to say about the Harrisburg man:

"Bernie Smith is a preacher of excellent address, clear thought, and with exceptional powers of description. In his presentation of spiritual truth he is both interesting and unctuous. The sermons here presented invariably awakened and sustained interest and were always crowned with fruitful altar services. They will doubtless be read with the same interest and enthusiasm. Bible scenes are here made to live afresh before the minds of the readers and the deep insight into telling young people to follow in his footsteps.

BUT THE GRADUATES could be told to go into business. That is always safe. Business people are the best people of the community.
Respected. Chance to make money. Make a million dollars. Make a hundred million.

Not just for the sake of becoming rich, but to give away. Do some good in the world. Endow colleges and things.

Build public libraries as old Andy Carnegie did. Found research institutes to fight disease all over the world the way the Rockefeller did. Establish trust funds to take over the profits of your business empire, the way old Henry Ford did, so that the income could be spent to make life better in America.

There is no reason why others couldn't establish foundations like these.

Foundations? What was that word? What was that in the papers about Congress or somebody down in Washington investigating all the foundations — Carnegie, Rockefeller, Ford and the others—because they were all in a big conspiracy to plant socialism and other subversive things in the good old U. S.
A?

It wouldn't do to tell members of a graduating class to get mixed up in anything like that. Besides,
their parents might not like it.
Cross out that stuff about becoming rich for the joy of service to others.
Try something else. Steer 'em on to something that won't be investigated.

SURE, THAT'S IT. Tell 'em to become investigators. Why wasn't that thought of before? That's where the future lies. Study law.
Noble profession, the law. Great chance for public service. Get into politics—to clean it up, of course.
Run for office—ward, city, county,
state and finally national office.

Serve a few terms in Congress;
and then, at first opportunity cut the political throat of the senator from your state and take his job
away from him.

Introduce a resolution to set up
a committee with you at its head,
to investigate something. Investigate anything. Great chance for public service.

Yes, this would be a really great commencement address.

It used to be that graduation day orators would inspire youth to go out and become President of the United States. But Presidents haven't been doing too well of late.

Look at all the trouble they get into—Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, and now even Eisenhower. Yes,
there is really greater opportunity for youth in investigating Presidents than in becoming one.

Minority Group Attacks Postal Pay Boost Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman and two key members of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee today denounced a committee-approved 7 per cent pay raise for postal workers as unfair, unworkable, and discriminatory.

They said it would cost almost 200 million dollars yearly and would further distort a pay scale under which incentive already is stifled by lack of differential between pay for routine jobs and for responsible supervisory positions.

The bill overturns an administration recommendation for pay raises coupled with a reclassification of jobs. High administration sources have indicated it may be vetoed if it passes in its present form.

"It is virtually impossible to achieve anywhere near the desired efficiency in the postal service without establishing at the earliest possible moment a pay system based upon equal pay for equal work and increased pay for increased responsibility," said the three members in a minority report.

The bill was approved by the committee May 27 by a vote of 14-10. It carries a 7 per cent general increase with a maximum of $480 and a minimum of $240 yearly, except that hourly workers would get a 10 cent increase.

The minority view, filed with the House today, was signed by Committee Chairman Edward H. Rees (R-Kan.); Rep. Tom Murray (D-Tenn.), ranking Democratic member and former chairman; and Rep. Katharine St. George (R-N.Y.), chairman of a subcommittee on postal operations.

Bernie Smith

human character will grip the attention to the very last."

Former WEEQ Announcer

Smith, who was an announcer
at WEEQ for eight years and was active in the ministry part of that time, is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
Amon Smith of 507 North Jackson street, where he is staying. His wife, the former Miss Louise Dale, also is a native of Harrisburg and has been with her husband in his travels. He felt the call to preach during the time that Dr. I. E. Lee was pastor of the First Baptist church here.

In 1948 Smith resigned a teaching post at Olivet Nazarene college in Kankakee, Ill., and went into the field of evangelism, where he has remained since. He has preached from the Arctic to the Caribbean and from Europe to Hawaii, conducting campaigns

throughout the United States, in Alaska, Canada, Old Mexico, Cuba,
Hawaii and in Europe.
While most of his work is for the Church of the Nazarene, he also has conducted citywide revivals, and has spoken at conventions, camp meetings and campaigns at colleges.

Booked Through 1957

Smith keeps 70 campaigns ahead
in his work and is now booked through 1957, he said. Most of this work will be in the United States although he has been invited to return to Belfast, Ireland, for an engagement. For the balance of this year cities in which he will speak include Portland, Ore., Minneapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Baltimore, Lexington, Ky., and Charleston, W. Va. Since last Christmas he has been in the southern and western states.

He has been recipient of several honorary memberships in national and international organizations. In 1947 he was declared the youngest man ever to receive honorary membership in the International Literary society. He has flown the ocean seven times and in December of 1953 W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, awarded him membership in the United Air Lines 100,000 Miles club because of the mileage he has flown.

He is proud of the plaque he received signifying his membership.
In spite of his work that takes him to all parts of the globe, Mr.
and Mrs. Smith arrange their schedule so that they are in Harrisburg twice a year — at Christmas time and for two weeks during the summer.

Unusual Coincidences

When he is far from home some unusual coincidences arise. Once, preaching in England, he ran across relatives of a Church of God minister named King who was in Eldorado at the time Smith was at WEEQ.

Another time, during a campaign in New York State, a young man came forward and asked Smith to autograph his Bible.
Smith started to do so and glanced through the list of others who had autographed it. The first name on the list was that of the Rev. S. H.

Frazier, former Baptist minister here.

It developed that Rev. Frazier had been a chaplain in the man's outfit during World War II.

Dulles Unable to Confirm Ultimatum By Guatemala Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he is unable to confirm reports that the Guatemalan army has given President Jacobo Arbenz an ultimatum to rid his government of Communists or quit.

Dulles said this government doesn't have any information from dependable sources.

Dulles told a news conference that a sort of reign of terror is now being conducted in Guatemala which makes it difficult for the Guatemalan people to clean their own house. He said he hopes the Guatemalan population will be able to handle its Communist problem and clean its own house, anyway.

He said he is unable to confirm reports that the United States is ready to submit to the organization of American states a resolution that its council consider an American foreign ministers meeting to deal with the menace of communism in Guatemala. But he said that doesn't mean the reports are not true.

Allied Nations Agree to End Talks on Korea

GENEVA (AP)—The 16 United Nations attending the Geneva conference on Korean peace today issued a declaration which blamed the Communists for failure to unify Korea and announced they intend to end the talks.

The declaration was read by Prince Wan Ait Yakon, Thailand's foreign minister and was signed by the 16 countries which fought the Reds in Korea.

The declaration was issued after leaders of the Red bloc had sought to breathe life back into the talks
the west has accused them of strangling.

China Asks Secret Talks

Red China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai proposed that Korean negotiations continue secretly among the seven leaders of the 19 nations involved.

North Korean Foreign Minister Nam Il hurried forward with a six-point plan calling for sharp troop reductions in Korea and "all Korean" discussions to reduce tension.

The 16 Western nations which fought communism in Korea agreed today's session will be the last of the long-drawn-out and futile talks.

Army of Caterpillars Moves Across Minnesota

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—An army of tent caterpillars moved across Minnesota today, stripping trees, making highways slippery and causing at least two cars to skid into ditches.

The invasion of worms crawled across U. S. 61 between Sandstone and Friesland and across Minn. 23 between Askov and the junction with 61.

Highway crews were called out to sand the roads when the worms were crushed by cars and caused two to skid into ditches. The entire city of Duluth was sprayed. State parks, resorts and other areas also were sprayed for protection.

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Paul Gaines, 27, burned to death on a high-powered transformer Monday night as 400 persons watched. Not one of them knew how to shut off the current.

Gaines, a Greenville, N. C., resident, lay on the transformer for 20 minutes absorbing 20,000 volts of electricity.

Gaines was here visiting a sister, who said she had taken him to a station where he was to catch a train to North Carolina. Police said he climbed a fence and fell on the transformer.

Cool Air May Be Warmed Up Before Reaching Midwest

By United Press

The season's worst heat wave broiled most of the eastern half of the nation today for the third straight day.

Possible relief was on the way. A massive cold front moving across the central plains dropped temperatures 10 to 20 degrees.

A squall line advancing ahead of the front stirred up violent storms.

The cool air wasn't expected to reach the central Midwest until Wednesday, and forecasters said it may have lost a lot of its strength by that time.

It moved at a 15-mile-an-hour pace today after cooling Nebraska, South Dakota, Western Kansas, Wyoming and eastern Colorado.

Chicago, where the mercury hit 95 Monday, had its second straight record-breaker and its fourth day of over 90 degree temperatures.

The storms hit hardest at Texas. A tornado swept rangeland near Crane and a wind, rain and hail storm ripped off the top of a huge oil tank near Midland, spewing oil as far as two miles.

At Stanton, Tex., winds bent a flag pole into the shape of a horse-shoe.

Storms in western and northwest Oklahoma shut down area wheat harvests.

Area of the Pacific Ocean is about the same as the combined extent of the Atlantic, Arctic and Indian Oceans.

Commentator Fulton Lewis is Acquitted of Criminal Libel Charge

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (AP)—Radio commentator Fulton Lewis Jr. was acquitted Monday of a criminal libel charge when a key witness refused to testify at his trial.

Judge James Clark ordered the acquittal verdict on a plea by Lewis' attorney just a few hours after the trial began. Another criminal libel indictment against Lewis remains, but state attorneys were not sure they would press the charge.

The indictment charged that Lewis libeled Maryland State Sen. Paul J. Bailey in a letter published in the St. Mary's County Enterprise.

NEWS ABOUT THE MODERN LIVING CAR

And the trend keeps growing to Lincoln

Perhaps it's because of Lincoln's clean lines. Or it could be this fine car's unmatched performance. The fact is that Lincoln sales have more than doubled in two years; last year sales were the highest in Lincoln's history.

You can find out the reasons for the growing trend to Lincoln. You're only as far away from the answers as one short visit to us.

First, stand back and look at Lincoln's superb lines. Notice the lack of bulging fenders and swollen sides. Then study Lincoln's careful use of chrome; note the lack of tricky glitter you often see on other cars.

Next, get behind the wheel. Take Lincoln out on the road. You'll discover a ride that's wonderfully different from any other. You control an engineering masterpiece—Lincoln's great V-8 engine. In traffic you glide along effortlessly, quietly. Take a curve on the open road. Lincoln's ball-joint front wheel suspension gives you maximum control.

Finally, try some stops in this great car. They're quick, sure, safe because of Lincoln's new, enlarged brakes.

Find out for yourself why the trend keeps growing to Lincoln. Consider this your invitation to inspect and to drive a Lincoln or a Lincoln Capri at your first opportunity. No obligation, of course.

For the fourth straight year, Lincoln won first place in its field for economy in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run.

Bobo Olson Meets Jesse Turner in 10-Rounder Tonight

HONOLULU (AP) — World's mid-weight boxing champion Carl (Bobo) Olson puts his reputation but not his title on the line tonight when he meets Jesse Turner of St. Louis in a 10-rounder.

Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, said that he realizes Turner is an ambitious and competent club fighter and that he will try to build his reputation at Olson's expense.

"I don't know where people here get the idea that Turner is only an exhibition fighter," Flaherty said. "He's a rough, tough customer and that's why I've taken the precaution to get him to sign a return match contract to fight Bobo—just in case he wins. The heat here is going to affect both fighters—and in an outdoor ring anything can happen."

THE SCOREBOARD

Giants' Winning Formula:

One Hot Player After Another

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK (NEA) — Leo Durocher intends to start Paul Giel, Minnesota's great all-around athlete.

Giel no doubt will make his bow against the Pirates, in which case the $70,000 bonus baby should feel perfectly at home. There is some question about the Pittsburgh club furnishing even college competition.

The Giants are back on the right track — one hot man after another. There never was a better winning formula. With that system and any kind of pitching, there should not be any protracted losing streak.

Unobtrusive Don Mueller has sprayed hits to all fields from the outset. Spectacular Willie Mays spearheaded the attack, and when the Say-Heh Kid went into a little slump, Hank Thompson showed what a 10 days' rest could do. The underrated Thompson, who had been out with a slight fissure in his kneecap, equalled a modern National League record with three homers in one game and kept right on going.

"Monte Irvin has to hit," said Manager Durocher. "He's the guy we need all the way."

Irvin started to swat the long ball and Alvin Dark caught fire with successive four-hit games. The underrated Thompson, who had been out with a slight fissure in his kneecap, equalled a modern National League record with three homers in one game and kept right on going.

Whitey Lockman and Davey Williams figured to be next.

THE POLO GROUNDS could be putting on their breathless 1951 stretch drive at an early date. It is practically the same outfit, inspired by Mays, the instinctive ballplayer.

Dark is once more the take charge man and chipper, a mighty

Hogan Predicts New Record In U. S. Open

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP) — It's beginning to look today as if tough old Baltusrol may be another "Hogan's Alley" — made to order for Bantam Ben in his record fifth bid for the U. S. Open golf championships.

Hogan set the open scoring record of 276 in 1948 at the Riviera Country Club in Los Angeles, which became known as "Hogan's Alley" because he played the course as if he owned it, and now he thinks the record may be lowered in the four rounds starting Thursday at Baltusrol.

Ben won't say he is the man to do it but it's obvious he feels at least as much at home here as at Riviera.

"There's no question in my mind that there might be a new record," he said. "The greens are wonderful and you can hold them with almost any shot. The fairways, traps and rough are perfectly fair for a test of golf."

Feeling "Fine"

Laid low for a time with a virus infection, Ben is "feeling fine" as he keeps the razor-sharpness on his game for the challenge of 161 other shotmakers who have qualified for the 54th U. S. Open championship.

Sam Snead, hoping for a solid drive to capture the only major title that has eluded him, came up with a sore neck and shoulder muscles that make him a doubtful threat. He felt miserable during a practice round Monday and apparently became so irritable that his caddy laid down his clubs at the fourth hole and quit his job.

A replacement had to be rushed out from the first tee so Sam could finish his round.

Among the early arrivals were former Open champions Julius Boros, Cary Middlecott and Lew Worsham. All three rate in the upper bracket of the field along with Bobby Locke of South Africa and Peter Thomson of Australia, who finished one-two in the British Open last year.

Cleveland Takes Two-Game Lead in 13-5 Rout of Red Sox; Cubs Trip Pirates

By FRED DOWN
Cleveland's rubber-armed threesome of Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn were headed for their greatest season today as the streaking Indians put their two-game American League lead on the line in a two-week home stand.

Lemon, the senior member of the hard-throwing trio, received the benefit of the Indians' biggest offensive outburst of the season to score his eighth win in Monday's 13-5 rout of the Boston Red Sox. The victory, which completed a five-game sweep of the collapsing Sox, enabled the Indians to gain a half-game on the idle Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees.

Hank Sauer put his 20th home run of the year as the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-5, in the only other major league game. The homer was the Cubs' 74th, leaving them slightly behind the record pace set by the New York Giants in 1947.

Including Monday's triumph, Lemon and his two mound mates have combined for 23 victories and only 11 losses for a 676 percentage — far better than they had compiled on this date in each of the last three seasons during which they carried the Indians' pennant hopes.

A year ago, the threesome had a combined record of 19-14 on June 15. It was 21-15 in 1952 and 16-17 in 1951 when late-season spurts enabled them to spark the Indians to second-place finishes.

The Indians pounded out 22 hits, including five doubles and homers by George Strickland and Al Smith. Hank Majeski had four hits and Lemon and Larry Doby three each in the assault on three Boston pitchers.

Sauer, who had gone hitless in 21 consecutive appearances at the plate, blasted No. 29 with Ralph Kiner aboard in the eighth inning to provide the Cubs with their margin of victory. Sauer's run proved decisive when the Pirates chased rookie Jim Davis with a two-run rally in the bottom of the inning. Hal Jeffcoat coming out of the bullpen to "save" the game.

Davis received credit for his third triumph while Max Surkont suffered his seventh loss. Four Pittsburgh errors made three Chicago runs unearned.

Duel With Lions

Bob Clark and "Chuck" Henshaw, hurlers for Ronnie's Studio and the Lions respectively, matched speed and fancy stuff Monday at Taylor field with Clark the winner, 2-1.

Each pitcher allowed but one hit, but were liberal with bases on balls. Henshaw walked nine and Clark allowed six passes. Clark had a no hitter going into the seventh inning, when King rapped a high fly to left field that fell for the Lions' only hit.

Henshaw allowed a hit to Biggs in the fourth frame. Henshaw retired 13 on strikes and Clark whiffed 14.

In other games in the Kiwanis league played yesterday the Shells defeated the Jaycees at the town park diamond, 4-2. Howton was the winning pitcher and Dick Weatherly the loser.

At Taylor field Harry Wirth's team continued to win, walloping the Elks 30-2. Wilson was the winning hurler and J. Moore the loser.

Franz was the big man with the bat for Wirth's, rapping out five safe blows in a many tries.

In the late game at Taylor field Walker's Cleaners won over the Deuces, 11-4. Jerry King was the winning hurler and J. Boone the loser. Kenny Byron took hitting honors in the game with 3 for 3.

He's Ten Years Younger Today!

Here's a man who has just taken ten years off his age — insofar as his spirits and mental outlook are concerned.

He's going for his first ride in his first Cadillac — and he's a happy, happy man — with his hopes in the sky and his heart singing a song it hasn't recalled for a decade.

He's having an experience which we can't tell you about. You have to live it yourself — at the wheel of that first Cadillac — in order to evaluate it.

You know how it goes. You work and you worry and plan and hope. The years go by — and, bit by bit, you get things done. The insurance creeps up where you want it — the mortgage on the home goes into the fire — there's that nest-egg against the future and the college fund in the bank.

And then, one day, you feel there's no further need for resisting — so you order the Cadillac — and wait for the happy news — "It's here!"

Your ride home will live in your memory forever. You've put the cap sheaf on your world of dreams.

Of course, this great sense of personal well-being is only the first thrill that comes with your Cadillac.

There's its magnificent performance — its marvelous balance and roadability — and its rare comfort and safety and handling ease. Every hour at the wheel is a privilege — and every journey is a wonderful memory.

Is the time about right for you to step up to a Cadillac?

If so — please come in and see us. The longer we're in business, the happier we are when we deliver a man his first Cadillac.

We'll be waiting to welcome you — anytime.

STREET ROD

THE STORY: Contrary to his parents' wishes, Ricky Madison, 16, has bought a "linker" motor car from a disreputable dealer. Ricky used $50 he had earned, promising to pay the rest of the $75 price at a dollar a week. En route to show off his purchase he goes into a ditch.

IV

Ricky was in the ditch for more than an hour before he heard the sound of familiar motors coming his way. He scrambled to his feet and stood by the side of the road, shading his eyes as he watched them.

They came up fast, turning their brakes and sliding, hitting the road, wondering, incredulous faces toward him at once who it was and what had happened. They backed up slowly, gunning and braking violently, until they were close to him.

Link Aller leaned on the door of the Shevvy convertible he was driving. He looked at Ricky with a hint of superior amusement in his black eyes. "What'd you do, boy?" he drawled. "Steal a car?"

"Steal nothing," Ricky answered, leaning nonchalantly against his coupe and hooking his thumbs in his belt. "I bought it."

"You what?" Chub yelled from his Ford Tudor.

"I bought it," Ricky said truculently, not prepared for the way they were acting. As though it was a joke. "I suppose you thought my folks could stop me."

"Now," Link whooped. "We figure Merle paid you to take it off his hands."

The girls giggled. Ricky ignored them all but Sharon, who was riding with Link. She didn't seem to be paying any attention to what was going on, but was filing her fingernails. He wanted to shake her, and make her acknowledge that she knew he had bought a car.

"What happened?" Sherm asked, getting out of his car and joining Ricky. The other boys took their cue from Sherm and gathered around too.

"Aw, you know," Ricky said loudly, so that Sharon would hear. "I hit the turn too fast, when I kicked her she didn't have enough dig to bring me around..."

Ricky made a careless gesture with his hand.

Link Aller winked at the others. "I didn't know this heap could go fast enough to slide gravel," he said, touching the coupe with his booted toe. "I've had it on the road. It's a real turtle."

For a moment Ricky felt like walking away and leaving them and his coupe, but he knew that would be two childish. "I won't argue with you," he said, trying to sound uninterested. "But I'm in the ditch and I need some help to get out. You guys want to help me out, or prove I couldn't be there in the first place?"

It was the right thing to say. This time they laughed with him, and moved to help.

Sherm backed his car around until it was near enough to be hooked to Ricky's coupe by chains. Ricky got in his car and started his motor. With his car in reverse, Sherm towing, and the other boys pushing by hand, he was soon back on the road.

The chains were unhooked and the boys gathered to hear the sound of Ricky's motor and discuss his car. They were pleased that he had wheels, but it wasn't their way to come right out and say so. Their way of welcoming Ricky was to rib him.

"I know she's not perfect," Ricky said seriously as he gunned the motor and a cloud of blue smoke rolled out of the exhaust pipe. "But at least I've got my own rod."

"Rod!" Chub howled, wrinkling his round face in dismay as the fumes enveloped him. "You don't call this a hot rod, do you? Man, it's more like a warm stick."

"Well, let's get on back to town," Link said. "Want a tow, Ricky?"

"I'll get there," Ricky snapped. "You might—if I pushed you."

Link teased, with a proud look at his convertible. It was bright yellow, with chrome exhaust extensions and Buick portholes along the hood.

Ricky looked sullen, but didn't answer. After all the waiting, and torment, and all the trouble he was in, the big moment of his life had come, and it had been flat.

Only Jerry Long stayed by him as the others moved toward their cars. Quiet, thoughtful Jerry, who was his best friend.

"How did you get your dad to okay it?" he asked.

Ricky didn't look up. "I didn't," he said.

"That's not so good."

Ricky lifted his head. "Why not? You guys all did the same thing, didn't you? If it was good for you, why isn't it good for me? I'm not a kid any more. Can't you see?"

Jerry scuffed the gravel with the toe of his shoe. "I had to fight for mine," he said, "but my dad agreed before I went and bought it."

"I tried it that way," Ricky said. "You know my folks. They didn't say yes and they didn't say no. I... I don't know what they said."

"Maybe you should have waited," Jerry said. "Anyway, you could have done better than this car. What did Merle try to stick you for? Last I heard, it could be had for 25 bucks."

"I made a good deal," Ricky said, mentally kicking himself.

"We've been buddies a long time," Jerry said. "I know when you're faking. What was it, thirty-five?"

"Worse," Ricky admitted, looking ashamed. "Forty."

"You've got to learn not to go off half-cocked. See you in town," Jerry walked to his car, shaking his head.

Rail Segregation Issue Taken to Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Atty. Gen. Latham Castle of Illinois today took to the U. S. Supreme Court a racial segregation case involving the Illinois Central Railroad's streamliner, City of New Orleans.

Castle asked the court to reverse an Illinois Supreme Court ruling which held that the Illinois Commerce Commission had no authority to decide whether there was segregation aboard the train.

The commission originally ordered the road to cease practices which "subjected Negro passengers to prejudice and disadvantage and discrimination."

The commission's order was upheld by a Superior Court decision but subsequently was reversed by the Illinois Supreme Court.

The State Supreme Court ruled that such issues be solely within the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and that the state commission "has no jurisdiction."

In his petition to the U. S. Supreme Court, Castle said that if this ruling were sound, it would be true of "every statute or regulation of a Southern state com-

Two Labor Leaders Seek Change of Venue to Danville

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Two labor leaders, under grand jury indictments for racketeering, filed petitions seeking a change of venue to Danville, Ill.

The petition were filed in U. S. District Court in behalf of Orell B. Soucie of Terre Haute, Ind., and Oscar L. Ferree of Lawrenceville, Ill.

They claimed "prejudice" as the reason for the venue change.

The motion also charges the grand jury with being "incompetent and improper" in returning the indictments without sufficient evidence.

Ferree also asked for a reduction in bail from $25,000 to $5,000.

manding segregation of passengers on interstate trains."

"In short, the Supreme Court of Illinois has held that because the state may not interfere with the classification of livestock or other commodities destined for interstate commerce, it may not interfere with segregation of passengers on the basis of race," Castle's petition said.

"To liken human beings, nearly all of whom are American citizens, to livestock, is certainly to raise a question which should elicit this court's writ of certiorari."

Rabies Quarantine Is Recommended

Henry C. Dempsey said he believed that the council should get legal advice on how to handle the matter before acting. He also said he believed the situation should be worked out with the society for handling the dogs because of the high cost it would be to the city to set up and operate its own pound under the present state laws.

Pick Up Strays

Chief Travelstead said he believed the shelter was doing a good job as far as it goes but that it was not big enough to do the right kind of job of getting out and getting the dogs. He said he believed the strays should be killed a shotgun.

Mrs. Turner said she believed that nearly all the dogs involved in damage have owners because the society picks up all strays that it can find and get its hands on—upon call.

"We have lots of wild-goose chases on calls for stray dogs. But we go when we are told the dog has an owner. If the dog has an owner it's up to the complainers to deal with him. We will not go out and pick up dogs if we are told they belong to somebody."

Neither Greenland nor Liberia have any telephones, but there are 70,300,000 of the instruments in the world.
